Yvonne,
It's been a great year and I'm glad it's over. You have been real nice to me. You've been fun.
Love ya
Beth Ann Felt
Grow Yonahana!

Sometimes I wake up early,
To watch the sun come up,
To see its incredible colors,
To see it change the sky.

Sometimes I pick up a leaf,
To see its small details,
To see all its many lines,
And to see its many colors.

Sometimes I look at the clouds,
To see their many different shapes,
To imagine what could be hiding in them,
And to guess what they are doing up there.

Sometimes I look at the world
And try to see all of it,
The big things and small things.

Darrin English

I am,
were made
a lot of memories
together ones that I will always remember.
I appreciate all that you've done
for me and helped me with.
Love Dorita "8"

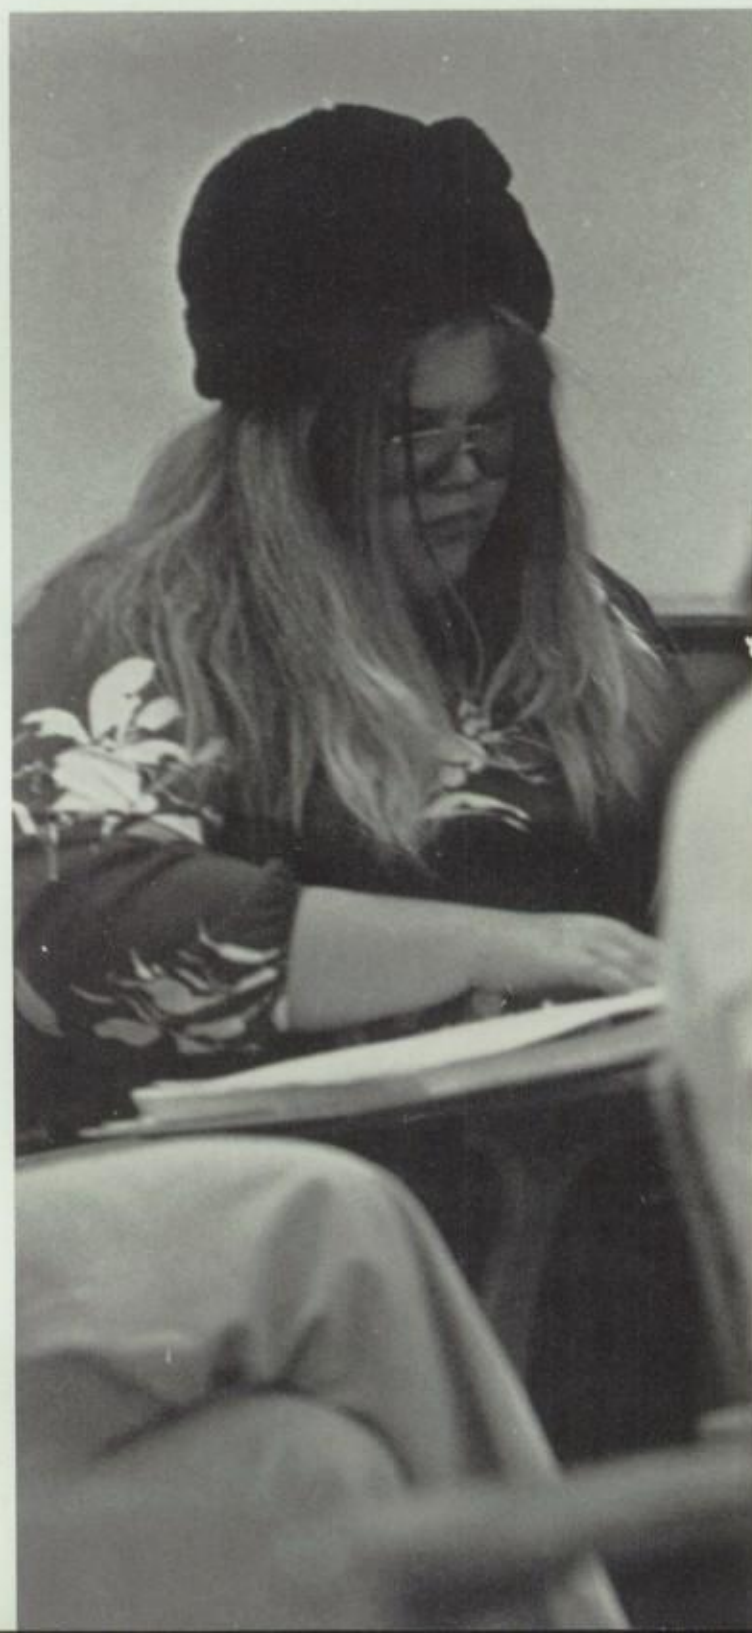

As we walk we find our way,
As we listen we hear the birds,
As the wind blows, he makes,
his song.

For those who will, come and see,
For those who listen, let them hear,
For those who sing, let there be songs,
For those who walk, show them the way.

SESSAR CLASSES

"Aloha" Means Goodbye Too

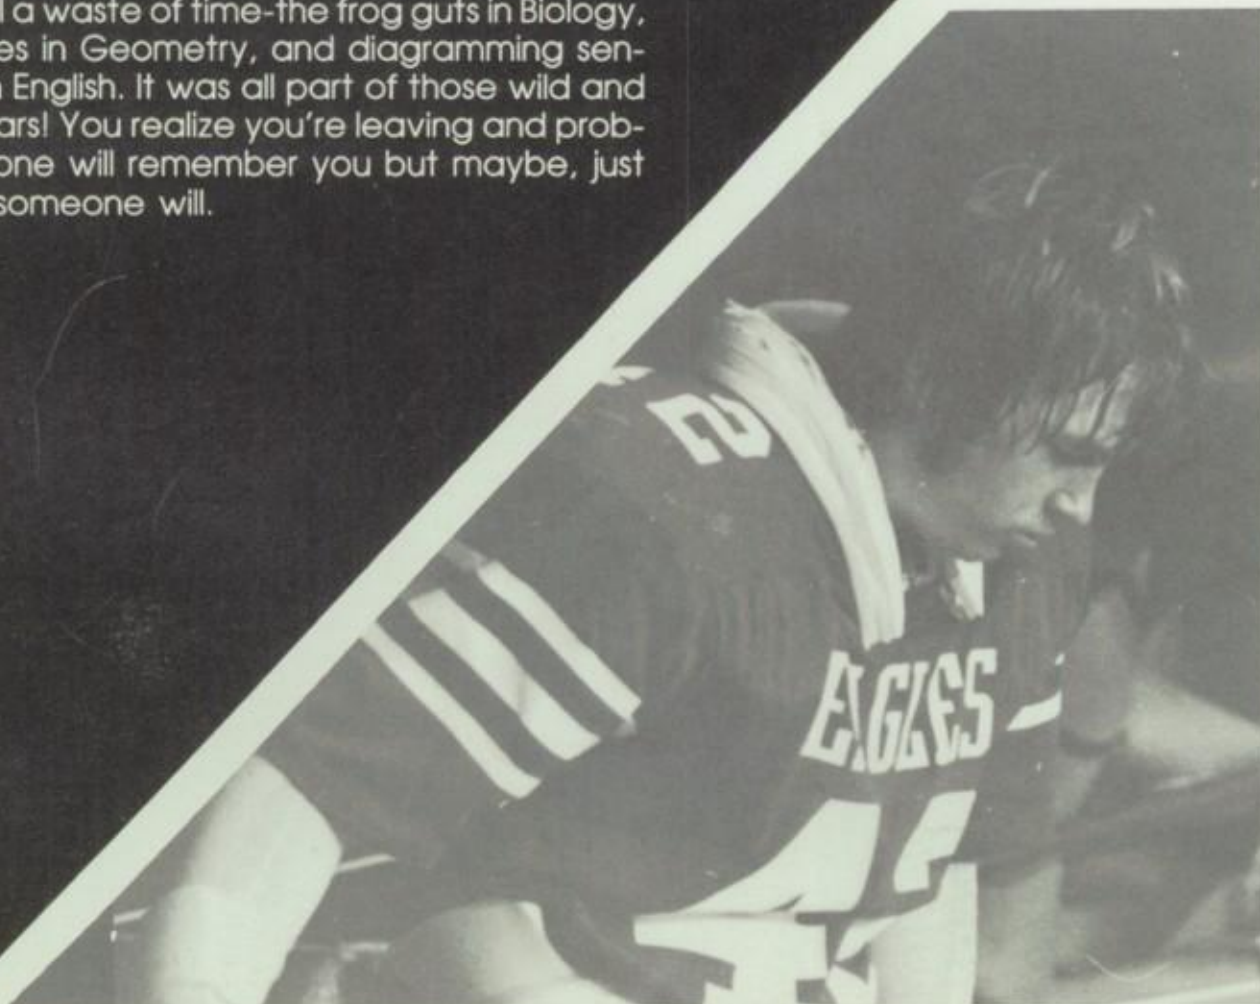

Reflecting on their Sophomore year, Seniors commented, "I threw up on the first day," "I couldn't find the classes," "I was in love with all the football players." One Senior said, "I'm just trying to forget it."

As your last year of high school passes by you, you try not to think about goodbyes and try to concentrate on the relief of graduating and the big party afterward. Some students may find that "Senior Year" is not all it's cracked up to be, after hearing from 297 people that it was their best year of high school. You can be more than a little disappointed when your class float doesn't win at Homecoming, or when you weren't asked to the Prom, or the Senior Trip to Hawaii never became a reality.

But it's a year out of your life, and there were a lot of laughs, tears, joys, sorrows, and they'll be treasured, precious memories forever.

You realize that all those times you teased underclassmen was because they were important to you and you'll miss them. And all those hours spent practicing, working, sweating and cussing were all worthwhile when you all worked together to win a game, produce a yearbook, or put on a play. You realize that maybe high school wasn't all a waste of time-the frog guts in Biology, the angles in Geometry, and diagramming sentences in English. It was all part of those wild and crazy years! You realize you're leaving and probably no one will remember you but maybe, just maybe, someone will.

Memories

Times we share, laughs, heartaches, and smiles. Part of growing up, but to us a serious time in our lives.

High school, frightening at first for some of us, for others, new challenges, and for all a start to our adult lives. For all, another step in our lives to learn. To learn not only in our studies but in many other ways.

Friendships, some lasting, some brief, but all in our memories.

The classes, the teachers, the friends, the games, the dances, the parties, Sophomore initiation, the Junior, Senior Prom, and Graduation, the night we all look forward to, but also a night that will bring an end to one life and the beginning of our future.

Our memories are precious and lasting. We will all look back on these years with different stories and many feelings of the times we all have shared. But as for now my friends we must part and say farewell to good ol' Flaghi.

Middle Of The Road Gang

Junior year-just one step down from the Seniors. The class of 1982 kept spirit high throughout the year-from beginning to end. Some comments from Juniors on Juniors were:

"It's a relief to have just one year to go."

"I ditch less this year. If I'm going to graduate, I need to get serious about this."

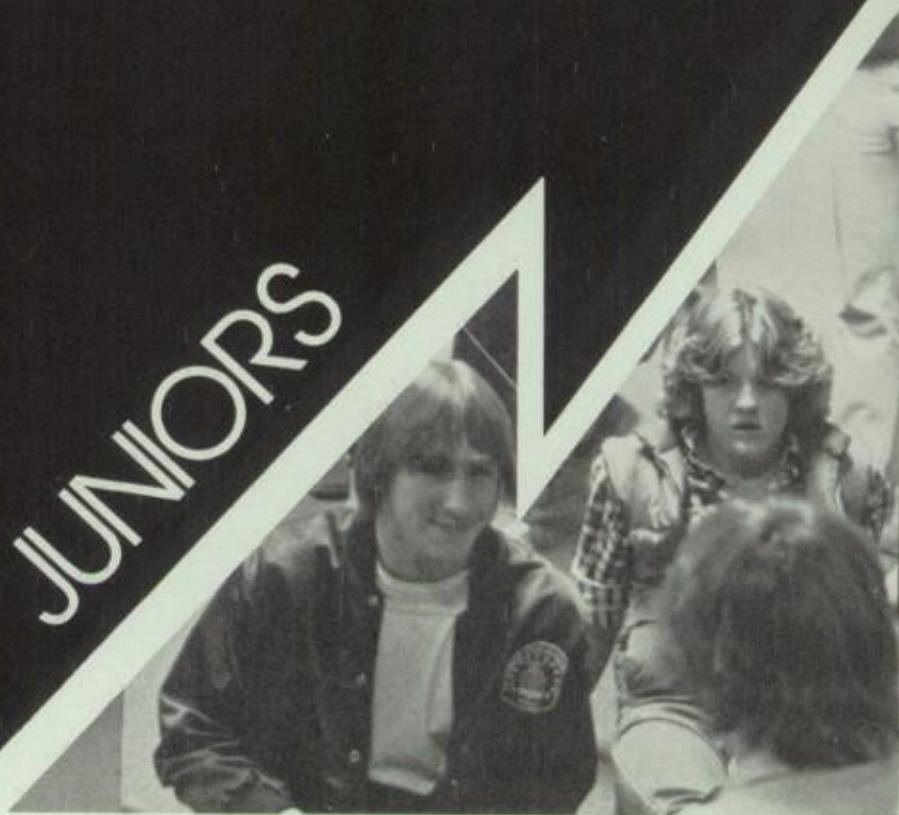

"I feel bigger and more part of the school because you're finally treated like a person."

"Juniors get to go to the PROM!"

"The best thing about being a Junior is not being a Sophomore! The worst thing is that you're not a Senior."

Perhaps the most honest statement was, "We're just in the middle of the road with a long way to go."

Teenage Triangle

By Sara Smith

A romance can grow old quickly
When one cares more than the other.
Constantly searching for someone new Another face changes the scenery.

He's fine and mysterious,
He makes you feel like somebody special,
His presence gives you butterflies,
His tenderness makes you warm.

The time comes when feelings change,
The face grows old, mystery is lost,
You're restless, tired of monotony,
Once again the scenery changes.

Yesterday we lived for each other,
And for the love to be
But now that you're so far away,
I only live for me.

The many romantic strolls we took,
On the silvery moonlit beach
Seem like an eternity ago,
And so far out of reach.

The gentle waves lapped at our feet,
As they sunk in the sticky sand
Our laughter echoed over the beach,
While we frolicked hand in hand.

Last night I went down to the beach,
To see if all's the same
Our laughs still echo in the air,
The waves now call your name.

While sitting bathed in white moonlight,
The breeze blew me a kiss
Tears flowed freely down my cheeks,
For the love I miss.

My teacher told us to write something so I did
With the time that we have,
which I'll add isn't much.
We have to write a poem, Something I wouldn't touch
I'm not very good, I don't get much practice
But I guess I'll have to, cause that's what she asked of us.
If teach doesn't like it, I'll just have to say
I did my best, and took it all the way.

When I'm around you,
I feel joy and happiness
Life could go on with no end
It's like having a space in eternity
You make me feel like some one cares,
And if you happen to find some one you love more
Please always remember
I'll always love you and just you.

Always hold special moments

Starting Over

Sophomores arrive at high school with hopes, fears, and a lot of questions like "How am I supposed to reach my locker?", "When's the first dance?", and "Where's the bathroom?" But, by the end of the year, they ask sophisticated questions like: "Should I take Advanced Placement Physics AAAA or should I choose Psychology for the Modern Sociological Anthropologist?", "Don't you think high school's a lot better than junior high?", and "How are you supposed to see through the smoke in the bathroom now that I've found it?" Sophomores tend to be treated as if they had a disease, but as one sophomore would like to remind us all, "you were sophomores, too!" Some advice from a senior to a sophomore: "If you can make it through your sophomore year, you can live through anything, so hang in there!"

The Eagle
 Soaring majestically with defiance and grace,
 The eagle is in flight.
 With no haunting barriers, truly
 free,
 The eagle is in flight.
 But the vain bands of humanity
 reach wide and high,
 And try to force the proud
 eagle from his boundless sky,
 And so he gives out one last
 defiant cry,
 Then blends into the dusk,
 The eagle is in flight.

A New Beginning

Here you go again, a new beginning,
Starting all over, to know no ending.
Some off to college, some to work,
Yet, all out alone, in the big world.
Some will be rich, some will be poor,
Some will be satisfied, some will want more.
Here you all go, hoping to score,
Stepping one foot out life's big door.
Everyone out to start anew,
Good-bye, eighty-one, we'll miss you.

Flagstaff Eagles on their way to State Play-offs had to play Window Rock Scouts. And had no problems with creaming the Scouts 60-0 for a 1980 Homecoming Victory. There were many activities involved such as Powder Puff in which the Juniors beat both Sophomores and Seniors. There was a slave day in which the Seniors bought the Sophomores. And a Tug-Of-War in which Sophomores beat both Juniors and Seniors. Thanks to our great student body we had a successful Homecoming for 1980.

pom pon

Come halftime at any football or basketball game, you see twelve enthusiastic girls performing. Behind the routines they perform are many hours of hard work and dedication. Being a pom pon involves not only hours of practice but the ability to work with others. However, even the disagreements can be fun. One girl commented, "Being a pom is the greatest thing in the world. It's a feeling that can't be defined-a natural high to perform!" The awards they brought home from summer camp at N.A.U. were outstanding. The most important thing, though, is the feeling shared between the girls. One girl concluded, "We play together, we stay together. United we stand, together we fall."

"Life Is More"

Is life just something that a person owns?
Is it a burden given to him whether he wants it or not?
Doesn't life mean more than just being alive?
Isn't it laughing and caring and learning?

Isn't it the beauty of love when you have fallen in love?
Isn't it the peace of God and the discovery of new things?
Life is so much more than just something that a person owns.

Time isn't half of it-yearbook production takes more than one's time. It requires creativity (sometimes the staff lacks this), patience (everyone is definitely short of this), time (which we never had enough of), and the ability to work with others (somehow we managed).

The yearbook staff is accustomed to accusations: "You didn't put the Minute Club in, we have four members!" "Why didn't you put my retake in? The other one shows a big pimple on my nose!" "You spelled my name wrong! Nobody even knows where to look for me." "You guys never do anything."

Maybe the fact that the amount of time spent taking pictures, drawing layouts, getting information, picking out pictures, printing and cropping pictures, and writing and typing copy takes an average of thirty-eight hours, and that's just for two pages out of this book. We tried to tell the story of your year, for you. We tried new ideas and made a lot of mistakes, but there is something good here. Our apologies to anyone whose club, activity, or sport wasn't included-all we can say is, we tried.

Flagstaff Eagles Anxiously Await Third

The Flag High Eagles host the snowflake Lobos tonight at 7:30 in the N.A.U. Skydome, after gaining their second victory on Monday against the King. The team is being rated as a contender for two weeks.

"If we play well, we'll do alright," said Coach Smith regarding the team's chances.

The Eagles' bulldogs, despite their personalities, are however, the extraordinary offense.

The crazy "G&B" staff is a group of students interested in letting the school know what events are taking place. With the help of their instructor Sally Coker, the Journalism class of 1980-81 has proven to be the "BEST".

Down! Smith has been in the Flagstaff coaching circle for years, and as a coach, to say the least, he is an offensive coordinator. He is also working on the team's defense.

The clown applies his make-up with the ease of years and experience. The happy smile, the bright eyes to please the crowd. The stunts worked on for weeks are given the ultimate test. The lights die down, the clowns emerge in all their gaiety. The painted smiles, the bright red noses shine in the glow of the lights. The clowns leave, the cheers and laughter left behind. The make-up comes off to reveal a man, open and vulnerable.

You may, after years of schooling, ask the question, "What motivates teachers?" What indeed, inspires these creatures from the "Land of Pedagogue"; these monsters who assign volumes of homework over Christmas vacation and cram theorems down thirty unwilling throats five hours a day; these would-be comedians who attempt warmed-over Steve Martin jokes; these masochists who deprive themselves of only their most aesthetic needs (ie, food, clothing, and shelter) for the pleasure of grading research papers 'til dawn's early light or staying after school until 11:00 trying to help the yearbook staff finish their layouts to meet their deadline; these friends who devote their time, energy-a huge chunk of their lives to their profession, but mainly to us. Why do they teach? "I couldn't qualify to be a Playboy Bunny."-Ms. Smith. "To make students self-sustaining in life."-Mr. Corona. "I hope to contribute some little bit toward preparing the little urchins for the cold, cruel world they will encounter on the outside. Besides, torture chambers are illegal in present society."-Mr. Ply. "I like young people. Besides, I'm a glutton for punishment."-Mrs. Nave. Ms. Smith said that important qualities a teacher should have are, "Love, understanding, a sense of humor, a lot of patience, and the ability to leap tall buildings in a single bound." Mr. Ply added. "You have to know your own strengths and weaknesses and basically understand yourself."

Our roots grow deep in Arizona. Especially in Flagstaff, where we have been a corporate citizen since 1924. During 1980, in excess of $6 million in payrolls will go to more than 500 people directly dependent on our Flagstaff sawmill and logging operations.

A Flagstaff citizen for more than a half-century

We're committed to long-term investments here. Constant improvements have given our sawmill the capacity to produce more than 70 million board feet of lumber a year. That's enough to build 5,000 typical single-family homes. And a $2 million logging camp is located 56 miles southeast of Flagstaff near Clints Well. Flagstaff also is the headquarters for our wide-ranging timber harvesting operations which supply our Arizona and New Mexico sawmills with sawlogs and our Snowflake, Arizona paper mill with pulpwood and wood chips. Yes, Flagstaff is important to us in many ways.

My Friend-

Though time carries on, we will always remember,
That trip in Beez' truck, to the Creek in December.
Remember us sitting "in" our old corner puddle?
We'd be wet, by the warm bathroom heater we'd huddle.
Or what about this year's first football game?
We were "happy", no bloomers, and late when we came.
Those who will read this may not understand, but why should they? It's friends that belong hand-in-hand.
Graduation: a word that's so hard to explain, it brings happiness, drunkenness, sorrow and pain.
It's the memories though, of those great high school years, that bring back the smiles, the laughter, the tears.
Thank you old Buddy for helping me through, and I pray that next year it will happen for you!

Love always,
Kimirich

Synne-

My my, we've sure gone through
A LOT (oops) together! As you always said, It's amazing how two families can come together as one, and survive! Kinda neat really! Finally, though, it has come time to go our own ways again.
It's weird, really, now you are the one leaving when I was always the one vowing to go "the minute graduation was over" :). That's life! I don't want to go through all the stuff we've done, laughed at, cried at, screamed at, etc., because I'd need a 100000000 pages!
I really want to wish you the most luck in this Big Scary world! I know that your future with your talents is going to be great. I've always envied all your talents, though I never mentioned that. You're gonna get a neat guy (MAU!) someday too, I'm just really sorry that no one at Flag High could be good enough for you! You really deserve much better!
I love you!
Carmette

Byrn,

 have been a great friend.
 Please keep in touch this summer and Good-bye
 with what ^{you} you do.
 God Bless you.

Love ya

Lynne,
Well we made it. And I'm sure glad we became such good friends.
Sometimes I couldn't believe I made it thru so much without you're smile and understanding. I know I've told you before but thanks again for all your help on mine and Kari's diet. We couldn't have done it without. Please keep in
